China Express. A Shangkal Charter Dispute. Reynolds This case related to the right to freight on a curno of cotton shipped at Shanghai for Liverpool. On the 11th of September, 1863, Jez (the defendant), at New York, chartered a vessel of shout 400 tons burden, from New York to Hongkong to an Atlantic port in the United States (not south miry have reached me, and filial duty, which is or Whampon and thence to Shanghai, and thence of the Cherapeake), or to a port in Great Britain (not beyond London) on the cast cost, or to a port on the continent of Europe between Havre and your ezalted race ever continue at peace with mine Hamburg (inclusive), on the terms of paying "for charter or freight" £3,000, to be paid—£1,500 on the correct discharged of cargoes at Hongkong and Shanghai (less an advance previded for) and £1.500 on correct discharge of return cargo in the moon, lat day, year 1885. I nited States; £1,000 to be advanced in New York on signing the bills of lading, to be signed without prejudice to the charter party; the vessel to be consigned at the port of discharge to the charterer's agents. Such was the charter at New York, in which it is to be noted there was no clause expressly creating a specific lien in favour of the shipowner for the chartered freight on goods shipceived £1,000 on account of charter—as ac ad- ance with the Emperor Napoleon's decision, have on correct discharge of cargo at Shanghai and Eypt. This is not unimportant as far as this Hangkong, and the master received £959, i.e., country is concerned, seeing that there is nothing 2,352 tack at 6s. 6d. The ship went to Shanghar now to prevent an English town for commercial in May, 1864, consigned to a firm of Frager, and; purposes being constructed on the opposite lank Co. there, and was thence desputched to Liverpool es the final port of discharge, with a cargo chiefly bales of cotton, of which the bills of lading run frustrate such a plan; for I can undertake to d'Europe. thus-"Shipped by Fraser and Co., to be deliveroil at Liverpool, unto their order, or to their assigns: he or they paying freight for same to Rev-nolds and Co., at Liverpool, as per margin;" and then in the margin of the freight was stated thus. -"091 bales at £3.16s, a ton, at 50 cubic feet aton." The ship arrived at Liverpool in Novem her 1861, and at that time (as will appear from the freight remained due to the shipowner .-- that is | Company, was hauled into the Victoria Dock to the defendant,—and he accordingly stopped the he fitted out. She was built by the Thames Iron polivery of the cargo at the docks at Liverpool in Shiphullding Company, at Blackwall, and was order to enforce payment thereof. Thereupon the launched on the 13th. Her dimensions are 300 plaintiffs, Messia. Reynolds and Co. the merchants, feet in length, 28 feet beam, and 29 feet depth of there to whom the 950 biles of cotton had been hold, and is to be fitted with engines of 100-horse consigned, and who held the hills of lading depo- power. sited with the Doc't Company L1,495 in order to liberate the cargo. Of this sum about £1,140 was for the 691 bales of cutton, and the rest for freight on other goods shipped on other bills of lading. An interpleader order had been obtained, under which the maney was paid into court, and an issue was directed to try whether the defendant was coulded HOUSCS. as shipowner to have the money in dispute. This lieue came on for trial at the last Assizes at Liverpool before Mr. Justice Shee, who said the ly the definite will not be accepted. Austria, it is question in substance came to this, whether the PHAT well known house situated in the local plaintiffs conginess of the cotton, were entitled to | part of the island, named "Harpcroite, with bave it delivered to them without payment of the immediate passession, containing ten rountes freight due by charter. The facts were not in conch house, stable, outhouses, &c. &c. dispute and ware taken formally with a view to reserve the question of law for this Court. It even at the risk of war, which is also clear the was proved that the plaintiffs, Reynolds and Co., Austrian Government is unable to risk. The of Liverpool, were agents of Fruser and Co., who resizure, high-handed as it is, is greatly to the consigned the cotton to them, and also sent both advantage of England which can now reach both charter and bills of lading - A verdict was taken the great German States: Austria in Venice and formally for the plaintiffs.
